

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Friday, April 6

2001

Center director's all-hands meeting Monday

Center Director Art Stephenson will hold an all-hands meeting Monday for all employees in Morris Auditorium, immediately following the NASA Headquarters' budget briefing at 1 p.m. The NASA briefing will be shown on Centerwide TV. Stephenson will discuss Marshall's budget outlook.

Great Moonbuggy Race Friday, Saturday at Space & Rocket Center. Call 544-2000

Lunch tickets for April 24 STS-1 20th anniversary celebration on sale through admin officers

Information services outage Saturday at off-site facilities

The National Space Science and Technology Center and the Consolidated Space Operations Contract facility on Bradford Road will experience an information services outage from 4-10 p.m. Saturday due to construction that requires the power in Bldg. 4207 to be shut off. All network data services including e-mail, desktop, Internet access and NASA dial-in will be unavailable. Incoming e-mail messages will be queued for delivery after the outage. No outgoing messages can be processed during the outage. Marshall TV will be unavailable. Telephone service and the pager system will not be affected.